OVERVIEW

The Scratch Pad (SPAD) system is a computer system that calculates benefits. SPAD is used to calculate food stamp benefit levels for use with claims or lost benefits. SPAD does not exchange data with other systems. You can move to and from SPAD using LINK MENU.

SPAD is an on-line system that calculates benefits for any specified month from March 1979 through the current month. The system requires entries for each requested month.

On-line edit messages indicate what entries are necessary so the case can be processed according to the budgeting method required for a given month. SPAD stores these created records. Since storage space is limited, records with six months of inactivity are purged monthly.

SPAD maintains the following food stamp policy factors for each month from March 1979 to the present:

- ◆ Gross and net income limits
- ◆ Resource limits
- ◆ Standard deduction
- ◆ Earned income deductions
- ◆ Shelter deduction maximums
- ◆ Rounding procedures
- ◆ Maximum food stamp allotment
- ◆ Maximum allotments
- ◆ Categorical eligibility
- ◆ Standard and actual utility deduction
- ◆ Farm loss
- ◆ Special elderly/disabled calculations

Workers make entries for each month of the potential claim or lost benefits. SPAD applies the correct policies and tables and calculates the correct amount of benefits for each month requested. The difference between the actual benefits received by the household and the amount calculated by SPAD is the amount of the claim or lost benefit.

Limitations

SPAD does not apply all policies; it only does calculations. Therefore, before using SPAD for the calculation, research the following:

- ◆ Claims due to unreported household members. Determine whether the person was a mandatory household member during the time period of the claim.
- ◆ Unreported income or resources that were excluded from income or resource determination during the time period of the claim. Determine if the applicable income or resources were excluded.

SPAD does not do the following:

- ◆ Give the amount of the overissuance and the total amount of the claim. SPAD computes the correct amount of issuance only.
- ◆ Automatically include the Medicare premium, FIP amounts, or child support rebates. Make the SPAD entries to include these for each month calculated.
- ◆ Calculate the month of suspension according to policy. The system is not able to apply the correct policy, since it views only one month of eligibility at a time. Do these calculations manually.
- ◆ Allow the child support deduction for only the time period when the deduction was allowable. Research this to determine if a child support deduction should be allowed for the time period of the claim.

SCREENS

Access the SPAD system through CICS by entering SPAD on a blank screen or the LINK Menu. The system displays the SPAD Menu. Entries on the menu screen produce a separate set of screens depending on the budgeting method selected.

EFFECTIVE DATE (M/Y):
OPTION:

The SPAD system requires entries in all selection fields (located after the colons). “B” is the only valid entry for PROGRAM. To create a SPAD record, enter the case number and your worker number on the menu screen.

BUDGETING METHOD field options are “A” for prospectively budgeted cases and “EB” for retrospectively budgeted cases. Selecting the “EB” budgeting method causes the system to do a prospective eligibility determination and a retrospective benefit calculation.

The COUNTY field is a two-digit field. Enter your county number in the field.

EFFECTIVE DATE (M/Y) is a numeric MM/YY field.

When a record does not exist on SPAD for a case number and effective month, the worker number, case number, county number, and effective date roll through to all of the SPAD screens. All other fields are blank or show zeros.

Once a record is created, you can retrieve a case by typing in the case number, county number, worker number, and the effective date on the menu. Your county and worker numbers carry over onto the next screen.

Title 14 Management InformationChapter K Scratch Pad System

When there is a record on the SPAD system for the effective month entered on the menu, the name, state ID number, and other fields display data, as well as the data that roll from the menu. This indicates that a calculation for that case number and month was completed at another time.

Prospective Budget Screens

Four screens are used for prospective budgeting:

- ◆ Add/Change - Prospective/Eligibility
- ◆ Extra Income - Add/Change - Prospective/Eligibility
- ◆ Result - Prospective/Eligibility/Benefit
- ◆ Budget - Prospective/Eligibility/Benefit

Mandatory entries for this screen are:

- ◆ Client name (FIRST, LAST, TITLE)
- ◆ State ID number (ST ID)
- ◆ Application date (APPL DATE MMDDYY)
- ◆ Number of adults in the household (#ADULTS:, two digits)
- ◆ Number of children in the household (#CHD:, two digits)
- ◆ Control group indicator (CNTL Y/N)
- ◆ Categorical eligibility indicator (TOTAL FIP/SSI HH (Y/N):)
- ◆ Elderly indicator (ELDERLY HH (Y/N):)
- ◆ Disabled indicator (DISABLED HH (Y/N):)
- ◆ Participant status (PARTICIPANT (Y/N):)
- ◆ Migrant status (MIGRANT (Y/N):)
- ◆ Initial month (INITIAL MONTH (Y/N):)
- ◆ Utility code (CODE:)
- ◆ Farm income indicator (FARM INCOME (Y/N):)

An on-line edit message appears at the bottom of the screen to ensure these entries.

EFF DATE is the month the calculation is for. It can be up to 12 months after the application date. For example, a case with an application date in October 1988 will allow EFF DATE entries from October 1988 to September 1989.

The EFF DATE can be other than the first of the month if the effective month is an initial month. The EFF DATE field must be changed when the effective month is an initial month and the date of application is other than the first of the month.

The EFF DATE does allow for a future date. This is to allow you to calculate two consecutive months' expedited allotments.

APPL DATE: is the date of the application for certification or the date the recertification began. An APPL DATE entry is not allowed for a future date.

TOTAL FIP/SSI HH: indicates categorical eligibility. Enter "Y" if all household members receive FIP or SSI for the effective month. Enter "N" if only some or no household members receive FIP or SSI for the effective month.

ELDERLY HH (Y/N): Enter "Y" if at least one household member is elderly in the effective month. Enter "N" if no household member is elderly in the effective month.

SHELMAX LRG: Causes the correct maximum shelter expense amount to be used. This indicator is not mandatory. Entry is required for periods when there were two maximum shelter expense amounts. Specifically:

- ◆ For months from October 1987 through September 1988, there was one amount for households certified before October 1, 1987, and another for cases certified on or after October 1, 1987.
- ◆ For months from March 2001 through February 2002, there is one amount for households certified before March 1, 2001, and another for cases certified on or after March 1, 2001.

Enter a “Y” if:

- ◆ The case was newly certified in or after October 1987 but before September 1988. If you do not make entry in this field, an on-line edit appears for this period.
- ◆ The case is certified or recertified for a period beginning March 2001 or later, and the certification action is taken after March 1, 2001. If you do not make entry in this field from March 2001 through February 2002, the system uses the $300 maximum shelter deduction.

CONTROL GROUP INDICATOR Y/N: Indicates whether the case was treated under regular policy (the control group) or “welfare reform” policy. Enter “Y” for all months before October 1993 and from July 1997 on. Enter “N” for months from October 1993 through June 1997, unless the case file indicates that the case was part of the control group.

DISABLED HH (Y/N): Enter “Y” if at least one household member is disabled in the effective month. Enter “N” if no household member is disabled in that month.

PARTICIPANT (Y/N): Indicates whether the case is in participant status or applicant status. Enter “Y” for a participant case. Enter “N” for an applicant case.

MIGRANT (Y/N): Enter “Y” if at least one household member is a migrant in the effective month. Enter “N” if no household member is a migrant.

FS PENALTY (Y/N): Enter “Y” if at least one household member has a penalty to be applied in the effective month. Enter “N” if no household member has a penalty.

TOTAL HH RESOURCES: Enter the amount of countable resources for all household members for the effective date. All money fields must contain a decimal point. The SPAD system differs from the Automated Benefit Calculation (ABC) system in that the decimal point is not fixed. If a money field does not contain a decimal point, the calculation may be wrong.

INITIAL MONTH (Y/N): Enter “N” if the month is not an initial month. Enter “Y” if the case meets the definition of initial month for the effective month. Consider a month as an initial month in a claim situation only if that month was an initial month when the original benefits were issued. If the computation is for an initial month, EFF DATE on this screen must be changed when it is other than the first of the month.

UTIL AMOUNT allows for entry of actual utility expenses if the utility code is “A” (for actual) or “C” (combined actual utility expenses and phone standard). When utility code “C” is used, enter the actual utility expense without the phone expense in the UTIL AMOUNT field. The system adds the applicable phone standard to this amount.

When the utility code is “I” for the ineligible member’s prorated share, enter the amount of the prorated share in this field.

CODE is a two-position field. The first position in the field is for the utility code. Valid codes for the first position are:

- A Actual utility expense only *
- B Big standard
- C Combined actual utility expense with system added phone standard *
Valid for benefit months before May 2000 only.
- I Ineligible member prorated share
- L Little standard
- N No utility expense
- P Phone standard
- 1 Use when entering a utility amount for a month before August 1991.
- 2 Use when entering a utility amount for a month before December 1983, when utility amounts were calculated based on household size.

* Valid for benefit months before May 2000.

The second position in the field is for the share code. Valid codes for the second position are:

- 0 No sharing of utility expenses. Also used as only valid code with utility codes "A," "C," "I," "N," "1," and "2."
- 2-9 Use with utility codes "B," "L," and "P." Enter the number for the number of shares you want the utility standard divided into.

HOMELESS: Enter code "H" to indicate that the household meets homeless criteria and should be allowed the homeless shelter deduction according to policy. Otherwise, leave blank.

SHELTER records the amount of rent, mortgage, taxes, or insurance.

Enter INDIVIDUAL EARNED INCOME, INDIVIDUAL UNEARNED INCOME and INDIVIDUAL REDUCTIONS for the case name only. Make entries for the budget month, considering the budgeting method used for the case. Earned income, child support (C/S), and unemployment (UIB) allow entry of a weekly amount. There is a field, SELF/EMP, for entry of self-employment income.

Enter the actual amount of dependent care expense, not to exceed policy limits, incurred by the household.

Enter the full amount in the MEDICAL COSTS field. The system will deduct the $35. Note: SPAD does not include the Medicare premium in the medical costs. For people responsible to pay a Medicare premium, you must add the Medicare premium to the amount you enter for medical costs.

The screen has instructions that you can choose after completing entries. The CD/SCRN field can be used instead of the PF function key. Enter the number for the desired function and press the ENTER key.

The PF1 key returns the system to the menu screen. If you enter information to process the case and press the PF1 key before pressing the ENTER key, all the data entered is lost. The SPAD system accumulates the data for the case situation.

Press the ENTER key if there are no other income or deductions to enter for the case. When you enter another IABC system screen in the OPTION field and press the PF6 key, the LINK system is invoked and the system moves to the screen requested.

Press the CLEAR key to sign off from the SPAD system. Signing off at this point, before calculation, does not save the data entered on the SPAD screens.

Press the PF5 key to access the EXTRA INCOME screen. The screen allows entry of additional income and deductions.

The PF1, PF6, ENTER, and CLEAR keys have the same functions as described earlier.

To recalculate, press the PF2 key to pull up the ADD/CHANGE - PROSPECTIVE/ELIGIBILITY screen for the month just calculated. Enter the changed information and press the ENTER key to cause the recalculation. The effective date and case number cannot be changed when a recalculation is started with the PF2 key.

Several months' calculations are allowed on a case. Press the PF3 key to display data for the last month entered. Make the necessary changes to the effective and application dates and the case and individual information. All data are carried forward from the previous month's entry.

If extra income entered for the original month is inappropriate for the new month, press the PF5 key to access the EXTRA INCOME - ADD/CHANGE -PROSPECTIVE/ELIGIBILITY screen. Use the "End of Field" (EOF) key to erase the name and state ID number for that person. Press the ENTER key; the extra income is deleted from that month's record.

Chapter K Scratch Pad System

The BUDGET screen shows income and deductions for the case. The monthly and prorated allotment amounts are shown on this screen for a prospectively budgeted case. The PF keys are as described earlier in this chapter.

Enter "D" in the DELETE CASE field to remove cases from SPAD. The storage space for this system is limited, so remove cases when the data are no longer essential. Cases on the system with no activity for six months are purged at the end of the sixth month. This purge program is run monthly.
